Community Trade Mark Regulation – English language Commentary

Powerful trade marks encapsulate the essential values of a brand. In today's highly competitive markets, trade marks serve as communicators between the businesses on the one hand and the courted clientele on the other. With its unitary nature and equal effect throughout the entire EU, the CTM provides access to more than 500 million consumers. It is therefore no wonder that business and trade have long since recognized the value of the CTM, last but not least because of this geographical reach. Since its inception in 1996, more than one million CTMs have been registered, 30 % of which stemming from applicants outside the EU. It is thus fair to say: The CTMR has proved to be a success story.

Community Design Regulation – English language Commentary

Design protection is well-established in modern commercial life. Successful designs often connect elements of attractive appearance with enhanced functionality, captivate through their simplicity, elegance or coolness and are therefore appealing to the consumer or user. Designs are an expression of innovative brilliance as well as emotional appeal and are for this reason for many businesses essential prerequisites for economic success. With its union-wide reach the CD is an ideal marketing tool to protect designs against counterfeiting and piracy, be it registered or not. In view of more than 700,000 RCD applications since 2003, the paramount importance of CDs is beyond doubt.

Both Commentaries

give a detailed article-by-article analysis of the Regulations and their enforcement in each Member State of the European Union. The commentaries provide an account of current reform plans of the EU Commission, give a historical overview, show the main features and underlying principles, and analyse each provision with due regard to the case law of the European courts and the supreme courts of the Member States.

Each Commentary contains:

- an article-by-article commentary
- a thorough analysis of the measures under Enforcement Directive 2004/48/EC
- a detailed overview on the out-of-court- and litigation practice in all 28 Member States (6-8 pages per country written by experts from the respective jurisdiction)
- comprehensive table of cases cited throughout the commentaries

»The commentaries are written by practitioners for practitioners' [...] deserving a place on the bookshelf of any professional or student interested in the Community trade mark and design system.«

António Campinos, President, OHIM (Foreword to both Commentaries)
